

Embellishments May 2024

Hi from Regina where the evenings are cool like home, but the temp is rising during the day, expecting in the 20's by Tuesday. The board meetings are done and were productive, they want to know what we are doing right. I said it was because we have some great people in our guild, because we do.

I think most of what we need to know has been covered in the Annual reports, so not much to say.

We currently have 80 members, so I know there are lots of good ideas out there, and the exec wants hear them.

The next workshops will be in June with Naomi Smith. The Sweetgrass basket class will be at the Arts and Culture Centre on June 18th and 19th, and the Beaded Poppy will be at the Summitt in Mount Pearl on June 22nd and 23rd.

The extra fabric from Mike Parr for the Stitch your Story people is on its way, if not in town already.

The two half day classes with Joyce Gill will be on July 20th.

The next EDGE is June 6th in the evening at Torbay History House, and the nest day EDGE is on June 13 at Paul Reynolds.

We will be celebrating World Embroidery Day on July 27th at Esat Coast Quilts, see the photo of this year's project in the president's annual report.

We are wondering if members have suggestions of what they might like to do for future workshops. Please send any suggestions that you might have to Sheila Anstey at danstey@nf.sympatico.ca

Tomorrow here at Seminar I will be attending the Chapter President's meeting representing both St.John's Guild of Embroiderers and Virtual Threads, two of the largest guilds in EAC/ACB. I am looking forward to hearing what other guilds have been up to this past year and, hopefully will be bringing home some new ideas to share.
